Kapowerful is a news and features website produced by Kerri Connolly. It is dedicated to creating and curating digital content for women in geek culture. From groundbreaking research to fan-focused activities, Kapowerful sheds light on all parts of the nerd spectrum.

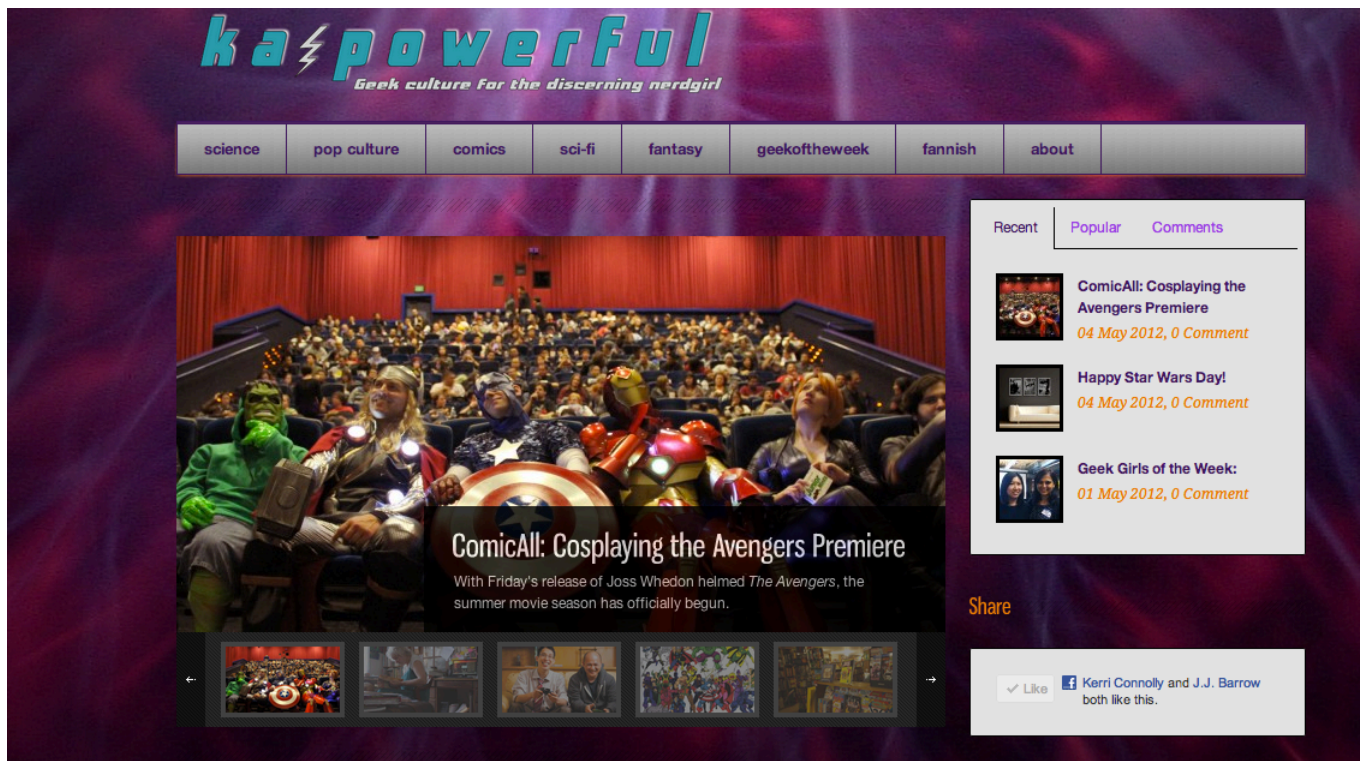

We keep an eye on events and activities around the San Francisco Bay Area and Silicon Valley (because we live here), but true geekdom knows no boundaries. We aim to create a fun and meaningful content for our readers (no matter their gender or niche) that celebrates...nay elevates, nerdiness.

Come get your geek on!
