POSITION DESCRIPTION

The University of California, Davis, School of Medicine, Department of Dermatology, is recruiting for two academic dermatologists in the Clinical X series or Health Sciences Clinical Professor (HSCP) series at the Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor level based on experience and qualifications. These positions are for general medical dermatologists. Expectations of the Clinical X series are to engage in teaching, research, service, and clinical work, while expectations of the faculty in the HSCP series are primarily clinical and include teaching, service, and scholarly and/or creative activity.

Additionally, based on the qualifications and experience a candidate may be considered for the departmental directorships.

The appointments may be made up to 100%.

For first consideration, applications should be received by August 31, 2024; however, the positions will be open until filled through July 31, 2025.

Please visit http://academicaffairs.ucdavis.edu/diversity/equity_inclusion/index.html for information about why diversity statements are requested and guidelines for writing a diversity statement. Please upload this information and apply online at <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF06605>.

The positions are in greater Sacramento, California. The Department of Dermatology (<http://www.ucdmc.ucdavis.edu/dermatology/>) is a major clinical care, research, and teaching department in the School of Medicine. Our faculty are engaged in multiple collaborations with other Schools and UC Davis campus departments, research centers, clinical centers, and primary care networks, and thus all positions require flexibility in local job locations in addition to the Department of Dermatology. This includes the Veteran's Administration, UCD Medical Center Campus, and other community centers. UC Davis commits to inclusion excellence by advancing equity, diversity and inclusion in all that we do.

QUALIFICATIONS

Basic qualifications (required at time of application)

Candidates must possess an MD or MD/Ph.D., can be board eligible, but must be board-certified in dermatology at the time of starting employment, and must be eligible for medical licensure in the State of California.

- Successful completion of an approved dermatology residency training program (ACGME accredited)
