INTRODUCTION

This publication is intended to serve as a convenient reference to selected transportation periodicals and newsletters currently (2000) received by UC Berkeley's Harmer E. Davis Transportation Library. This latest version of Transportation Periodicals and Newsletters represents a thorough revision of earlier editions (1989, 1993, and 1995) published under the same (or similar) title.

The subject content of this listing reflects the subject strengths of the H.E. Davis Transportation Library: highways and traffic, air transportation, railroads, and urban transit. Water and pipeline modes are represented to a lesser extent.

Collection emphasis at the Transportation Library is placed on planning, design, construction, and operations and most titles fall within this context. However, some titles in transportation business and economics do appear. While primary emphasis is placed on English language publications published in the United States, significant transportation journals from abroad are also included in the pages which follow.

This work is not intended to provide a comprehensive listing of Transportation Library serials. Non-transportation periodicals received at the Transportation Library in support of transportation programs are not included on the list, nor are the Library's extensive collection of statistical serials, directories, monographic series, serial conference proceedings or annual reports. As of May 2000, the Library has 830 active subscriptions, of which 193 are represented here.

Several of the titles included here are continuations of "inactive" titles (usually as a result of a title change), and thus the holdings statement on these goes back to only the beginning of the present form of the title. For example, the entry for Material Handling Management has a holdings statement that reads: 2000 - present. This is a continuation, however, of Material Handling Engineering for which the library holds issues for 1973-1999, which is not shown in this list.

Online access to the Transportation Library's complete serials collection of 4000+ records is available through the University of California's MELVYL catalog (<http://www.dbs.cdlib.org> or telnet://melvyl.ucop.edu) or through the OCLC online catalog (our symbol is CBT).

The Library plans to have its complete list of active titles available and fully searchable on the internet by the end of FY2001. At that time, it will be accessible through the library's web site at: <http://www.lib.berkeley.edu/ITSL>
