SCIENTIFIC JOURNAL
THE JOURNAL OF YOUNG SCIENTISTS

A central illustration of a human brain, rendered in a light tan color with a textured, almost crystalline surface. The brain is surrounded by a vibrant yellow background. From the top and bottom edges of the brain, numerous thin, curved lines radiate outwards, colored in shades of blue and purple, creating a sense of intense pressure or mental strain. The word 'STRESS' is superimposed over the brain in a large, bold, black, sans-serif font.
