...Y LEYENDAS COLONIALES

para Orquesta de Cámara
2016

Duración Aproximada: 18 minutos

NOTA COMPOSICIONAL DE ...Y LEYENDAS COLONIALES

...Y Leyendas Coloniales es una suite para orquesta de cámara que está inspirada en 3 leyendas del período colonial en México. La primera danza trata sobre el relato de La Llorona, la segunda, sobre El Indio Triste, y la última gira en torno a La Mulata de Córdoba. Cada una aborda elementos composicionales diferentes pero manteniendo al mismo tiempo una hebra en común: la pérdida de identidad y la inevitabilidad del destino trágico.

La primera danza, La Llorona, está elaborada con elementos rítmicos y estructurales del son huasteco. El material armónico surge a partir de la utilización de máquinas armónicas con la colección de notas: D Eb F# G# A B C#. El aporte rítmico está tomado de mi propia recitación del relato, subordinándola a la implementación agógica de diferentes quebrados rítmicos simples y compuestos. Es de notar que el son huasteco contiene la dialéctica implícita de un instrumento solista (generalmente violín) y al que le responde a manera de contracanto el ensamble. En la obra, hay un llamado que presenta el pícolo por primera ocasión, y que evoca el famosísimo lamento del personaje de La Llorona: -¡Ay, mis hijos!-, y del cuál se desprenden las melodías del movimiento. Constantemente el juego entre instrumento solista y orquesta está presente. Sin duda, el tratamiento virtuosístico del arpa que luego es retomado por el piano, hace reminiscencias a los puentes instrumentales del son huasteco. Este es un movimiento lleno de angustia y desesperación, evocando la tragedia de esta personalidad icónica del imaginario mexicano.

La segunda danza, El Indio Triste, plantea la yuxtaposición de ideales disímiles y aborda una estructura de forma sonata. Por un lado, se cuenta con un tema “A” tratado a la usanza de los corales orquestales de Mahler y Brahms, mismo que establece la identidad del yugo cristiano. A continuación, surge un material “B” elaborado a partir de danzas prehispánicas, en donde la aglomeración rítmica y melódica es primordial. Es una música abrupta y salvaje. El movimiento entonces aborda una lucha constante entre estos dos elementos temáticos, como haría la catequización del indio a quien se le ha asignado fungir como espía para la corona española y quien, finalmente, al no poder lidiar con su culpa, termina por quitarse la vida. La riqueza rítmica del movimiento está representada en rallentandos y accelerandos escritos, así como en agrupaciones trucas que responden a la resistencia de asimilar el destino. En el desarrollo del movimiento, surge el tema “B” del indio totalmente sincretizado con el mestizaje cultural mexicano, a manera de una conciliación momentánea.

Finalmente, La Mulata de Córdoba pretende emular el aspecto trascendental y la desmaterialización del personaje. La estructura está tomada de la danza más representativa del período colonial en Latinoamérica: la Pasacalle, que consiste en un bajo de danza descendente con variaciones. También aparece el ritmo de bolero para acentuar la sensualidad de la melodía que surge a partir del bajo de danza. El recurso composicional primordial es el del canon a diferentes proporciones: corcheas, tresillos, quintillos, y sietillos. El carácter del movimiento es onírico y misterioso. En el relato, la mulata es encarcelada por considerarse su belleza un peligro para la sociedad. Ella entonces pinta un barco en el muro de su prisión y se desvanece navegando hacia la inmortalidad. Esta danza también funge como la gran coda de la obra, donde se rescatan materiales temáticos de los otros movimientos, y haciendo nuevamente un símil con el sincretismo cultural del México contemporáneo.

This musical score page contains measures 317 through 319. The instrumentation includes Flute, Oboe, Clarinet, Bassoon, Cor Anglais, Trumpet, Trombone, Timpani, Piccolo 1 and 2, Arpeggiator, Piano, Violin I and II, Viola, Violoncello, and Contrabass. Measures 317 and 318 feature complex woodwind passages with many slurs and ties, and a rhythmic pattern in the strings. Measure 319 continues these patterns with some changes in the woodwinds and strings. The piano part provides harmonic support with sustained chords and moving lines. The score is written in a key with two flats and a 4/4 time signature.
