Hansjakob Seiler, Professor of Linguistics and Head of the Department of Linguistics, University of Cologne, Germany.

Malki Museum Press is proud to announce the publication of Professor Hansjakob Seiler's Cahuilla Grammar, a monumental work of research on the Cahuilla language that has spanned twenty years of study. The volume is a scientific grammar of Cahuilla, a Uto-Aztecan language spoken in California. Particular aspects of the Cahuilla language have been described or discussed by the author in earlier publications, but the present study represents the first attempt to present the language in its entirety. The author goes beyond a mere presentation of the facts of Cahuilla in working out the essence—the underlying design of this language. The volume will prove of interest not only to specialists in American Indian languages, but also to the student of general linguistics, of anthropology, of language typology and universals, and of the theory of language. Some parts of the grammar are also accessible to the interested non-linguist, particularly the introduction and introductions to main chapters and subchapters. Professor Seiler's masterwork is destined to become a classic in scientific grammars. European distribution is being handled by Wilhelm Fink Verlag K G, Nikolaistrasse 2, 800 München 40, Germany.

THE EYE OF THE FLUTE: CHUMASH
TRADITIONAL HISTORY AND RITUAL
AS TOLD BY FERNANDO LIBRADO
KITSEPAWIT TO JOHN P. HARRINGTON

Edited, with Introduction, Notes, and Appendices by Travis Hudson, Thomas Blackburn, Rosario Curletti and Janice Timbrook.
Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History, 1977. LIMITED EDITION

The text for this important anthropological contribution is based on the voluminous but hitherto unpublished notes by John Peabody Harrington, an anthropologist with the Smithsonian Institution, who gathered his material directly from the Indians in the locale of Santa Barbara and Ventura counties in the early and middle 1900s. Told in the words of one of his informants, Fernando Librado Kitsepawit, and copiously annotated by the editors with illustrations by Campbell Grant, the book tells the story of Chumash traditional history of peoples and places as they existed before, during, and after the Mission period. A very human document, the book offers a rare glimpse into the rites, ceremonies, orations and astronomical observations of the Chumash Indians of the Santa Barbara Channel.

PUBLICATION NUMBER 5:

ETHNOGEOGRAPHY OF THE PLAINS MIWOK

BY JAMES A. BENNYHOFF

THIS MONOGRAPH DESCRIBES AND DEMARCATES LATE PREHISTORIC AND EARLY HISTORIC TERRITORIAL BOUNDARIES OF THE PLAINS MIWOK AND ADJACENT GROUPS WHO ONCE RESIDED IN THE SACRAMENTO DELTA AREA OF CENTRAL CALIFORNIA. THROUGH METICULOUS ANALYSIS OF EARLY EXPLORATION DIARIES, SPANISH MISSION RECORDS AND MAPS, THE SUTTER DOCUMENTS, REMINISCENCES, AND ETHNOGRAPHIC, LINGUISTIC AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL INFORMATION, THE AUTHOR PROPOSES THE FORMER EXISTENCE OF 28 INDEPENDENT PLAINS MIWOK TRIBELETS AS OF A.D. 1800. CAREFUL EXAMINATION OF THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL RECORD FURTHER SUGGESTED THAT LINGUISTIC BOUNDARIES COULD BE DRAWN WHICH COINCIDES WITH CULTURALLY DEFINED ARCHAEOLOGICAL DISTRICTS.

THE VOLUME CONTAINS SEVEN CHAPTERS: INTRODUCTION, GEOGRAPHIC SETTING, PLAINS MIWOK CULTURE, ETHNOGEOGRAPHY: PROBLEMS AND SOURCES, TRIBELETS AND VILLAGES, LINGUISTIC BOUNDARIES, AND CONCLUSIONS. ALSO INCLUDED ARE MAPS SHOWING PLAINS MIWOK BOUNDARIES AND SETTLEMENTS AS PLACED BY THE AUTHOR AND BY AN EARLY SPANISH EXPLORER IN 1824.

AN ESSENTIAL ADDITION TO THE LIBRARY OF THE ANTHROPOLOGIST, ARCHAEOLOGIST, HISTORIAN, LINGUIST, OR ANYONE INTERESTED IN THE LATE PREHISTORY AND EARLY HISTORY OF CENTRAL CALIFORNIA.
